State Assemblyman Floyd Mori and featured speaker May Nissen — both former school teachers — trade stories of the good old days.

She rekindled the fires of a Livermore long lost

LIVERMORE — The venerable Miss May G. Nissen, who at 92 years of age is one of this city's oldest natives, painted a colorful and finely detailed verbal picture of turn - of - the - century Livermore at the Centennial Celebration yesterday afternoon.

The event was planned to be a picnic at Carnegie Park but was moved into the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church because of the windy weather.

The change of venue, however, did not dampen the high spirits of the more than 100 citizens who turned out — some in costume — to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the first Town of Livermore Board of Trustees meeting.

The event featured a Navy colorguard attired in uniforms from 100 years ago and the presentation of a resolution saluting the City of Livermore by State Assemblyman Floyd Mori in addition to Miss Nissen's story of an early morning promenade along the streets of Livermore.

As Miss Nissen spoke about the thrill of seeing posters advertising a circus coming to town, the adults listened enthralled as children crunched potato chips, squirmed in their parents laps or roamed the aisles between the tables set up for the lunches brought by the celebrants.

The event, coordinated by Mayor Helen Tirsell and Councilman John Staley, was a joyous one, the likes of which probably will not be seen again for another 100 years.

Dublin rezoning hits snag

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Two dozen Dublin homeowners locked horns with half as many businessmen and landowners yesterday and wrestled them to a draw before county supervisors.

At stake are some 27 acres sandwiched next to the intersection of Dublin and San Ramon Valley Boulevards and bordering the backyards of Briar Hill and Silvergate homeowners.

The board dwindled to a bare quorum of three before hastily adjourning and agreeing to take the matter up again June 3.

The supervisors, bickering among themselves as well as with the applicants, were split among voting on the proposed change yesterday, continuing the matter for a month or tabling the petition for nine months to a year.

Only valley supervisor John Murphy, who argued for the zoning change, wanted an immediate vote.

Supervisors Joseph Bort (Castro Valley) and Charles Santana (Hayward), both wary of the proposed rezoning, got the six week continuance.

The strongest opposition to the change came from board chairman Fred Cooper of Alameda and Tom Bates of Oakland. Both argued for the year's delay to wait for completion of a valley wide analysis.

Two parcels totaling 22 acres are zoned for single family housing with the remaining five acres, also divided between two lots, zoned for commercial office buildings.

Landowners, including the Rev. Ward Tannenberg of Valley Christian Community Center, claim their parcels are landlocked and unsuitable for home development.

Two large lots fronting San Ramon Valley Boulevard were rezoned several years ago to retail business and now house the Iceland ice skating rink and several retail outlets.

Both Briar Hill and Silvergate Homeowners' Associations representatives say commercial development will decrease the value of their homes and turn Betlen and Shadow Drives and Castle Court into thoroughfare entrances to any any commercial center.

Complicating matters is a large parcel owned by Kaiser/Aetna and planned for multiple residential units.

Sandwiching these between single family homes and office buildings will create a traffic problem, Murphy argued.

Proponents of the change claim Dublin needs more commercial zoning because properties now zoned and planned for commercial use are too expensive.

They also argue the property would be better suited for commercial than residential use.

Homeowners fear the Kaiser - Aetna property might be combined with the 27 acres under consideration and turned into a giant business area.

They point to eight acres across Dublin Boulevard that are for sale and another nine acres on the other side of San Ramon Valley Boulevard that the owners will "build to suit."

"Use it," said Briar Hills Homeowners' Association representative Pete Haggerty. "Don't come to our front doorsteps with a development that will decrease our property values."

Silvergate spokeswoman Kathy Waterson augmented her neighbors' argument, telling the board "commercial development is spreading in Dublin to such an extent that it's infringing on residences."

Both Bort and Santana claim some zoning change is in order since the land is a poor location for single family homes. But neither is prepared to accept piece-meal rezoning to commercial property, they said.

Trustees to appoint committee

Murray School District board members are scheduled to appoint a citizens advisory committee Monday that will work on the problem of housing intermediate grade students in the future.

Trustees convene at 8 p.m. at Frederiksen School, 7243 Tamarack Dr., Dublin.

As of Thursday noon, the district office had received nominees for the committee from five schools. Some of the schools turned in one nominee and others two or three.

The board previously stated it would make the final selections. There will be one representative from each school area plus administrators and board members.

Board members are expected to consider a time frame for the panel's deliberations.

In other business, the trustees will appoint an auditor to review district finances, act on a consolidated application for funds for educational programs, act on a matter regarding the Dublin swimming pool, give second reading of policy on candidates' statement costs and consider a stand on SB 1382, purportedly a finance bill by Sen. Ralph Dills.

The Frederiksen School time schedule and a summer school report are also on the agenda.

Under certificated personnel actions, the district will act on a letter of resignation received from Mrs. Betty Chandler.

Mrs. Chandler has been with the district for 10 years, presently serving as the district's music program coordinator.

Neighbors plan appeal

Stoneridge recreational storage yard will stay

PLEASANTON — Stoneridge developer Art Schumacher won the right to keep his $16,000 recreational vehicle storage yard on Stonedale Drive, but dissatisfied neighbors said they will appeal the planning commission's decision to the city council.

The conflict started some months ago when the workers began installing the yard. Stondedale Drive residents contended that the developer's sales staff promised a grassy park there. Checking city records revealed one map which showed a grassy area there, but other maps indicated the recreational vehicle yard, including the map signed most recently which seemed to indicate final approval.

Approval was back in 1971 before the Stonedale residents moved in. The city maintains that the lot is legal and the planning commission backed that contention Wednesday night with its stamp of approval.

However, the commission was sensitive to the neighbors' feelings about the yard. They made changes designed to minimize its impact on the neighbors, especially the family next door. The commission removed a water hose which would have generated much activity next to a residence and expects Schumacher, at his expense, to move the driveway to the other side of the property.

Landscaping and a sprinkler system also will be required as well as a fence with a large setback.

But sprucing up the lot doesn't satisfy the neighbors, opponent Jim Jordan told The Times yesterday.

"We want them to remove the lot. We will spend time trying to find an alternative site for it, if they want to do it," said Jordan. The opponents' earlier offer to find an alternate site was rejected by the developer, said Jordan.

Jordan does not question the legitimacy of the planning commission's approval of the lot, but feels "it's an illegitimate location."

Planners grant rezoning to 363 Willow West acres

PLEASANTON — Willow West won rezoning of its 363 acres east of Hopyard Road from the planning commission Wednesday night.

The vote was 4-0 with Commissioner Howard Garrigan absent. The new zoning has a variety of uses, including commercial, office, light industry, general industry and industrial park zoning. Willow West hopes to begin the preliminaries soon on development of a restaurant on the northwest corner of its property, at Hopyard Road north of the future eastern extension of Stoneridge Drive.

There were two protests at the public hearing which lasted for more than an hour. Val Vista resident Don Savery quoted extensively from the Environmental Impact Report from the proposed project and also from the city's general plan environmental element.

Savery's objections fell into three categories: traffic noise on Hopyard and Stanta Rita Roads, traffic impact on Hopyard Road, and the necessity of constructing good flood control measures to prevent possible flooding in the area.

Traffic on Hopyard Road doubled since 1971, rising to 24,000 Annual Average Daily Trips compared to a consultant's view that the street's maximum capability is 22,500 AADT, said Savery. Willow West at the minimum of its full development would contribute another 17,500 AADT, he added.

The city eventually would need eight lanes to handle all of the traffic, especially if Willow West went to its maximum estimated AADT contribution of more than 30,000, said Savery.

Director of Engineering Services Don Sooby responded that it isn't likely the city would need that many lanes. He observed that Van Ness Avenue in San Francisco has six lanes of traffic and "we're talking about far less traffic than that" for Pleasanton.

The city's minimum acceptable outside noise levels of 65 dba will be exceeded 10 percent of the time by future traffic on Hopyard and Santa Rita Road, said Savery.

Planning Director Robert Harris responded that noise generation "is foremost in our minds in every development." Mitigation measures can be proposed when the planning staff receives specific building proposals plans, said Harris. Rezoning is not the time to do it, he said.

Savery raised the concern that some areas around Hopyard Road are in a flood plain. Harris acknowledged that Valley Trails is in a 100 - year flood area (meaning there is one chance in a hundred every year there will be a flood), but the part of Del Prado said to be in a flood plain no longer is in that situation because the home's pads have elevated them sufficiently.

Savery told The Times yesterday he does not necessarily oppose Willow West, but felt the city should look at the concerns he raised somewhere along the line.

Governor's school stand unpopular

The California Teachers Association claimed today a recent poll shows a growing public disenchantment with the education policies of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr.

"The Governor's hands - off attitude toward California's financially - troubled public school systems is bringing public disapproval and could cause the first major scar in Jerry Brown's popularity," Steve Edwards, president of the 150,000-member CTA commented.

Edwards based the prediction on the results of the California Poll issued this week by Field Research Corporation, which shows that more people dislike the Governor's education and school policies than like them.

Edwards, speaking from the Burlingame - based CTA's headquarters, said, "this is no coincidence. Public schools are the one governmental agency that is the closest to the largest number of people.

Eostre never laid an egg

Valley children participating in Easter Egg egg hunts this Easter weekend will be carrying on a tradition that dates back to pre - Christian roots.

Two of Easter's most enduring and universal symbols, the bunny and the egg, date back to pagan times.

The bunny and the egg were symbols of Eostre, the goddess of spring, from whose name "Easter" is derived.

German immigrants brought the Easter bunny to America in the 1700's. Pennsylvanian Germans spread out to Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, and New York and Canada, taking their Easter customs with them.

The egg hunt and the egg roll, traditional Easter games, were also brought by the immigrants from Europe.

In years past, the egg, a symbol of birth and rebirth, was hand - colored and exchanged as gifts.

The egg roll, historians believe, was first done in imitation of rolling the stone away from Christ's tomb.

Easter parades date back to the mid - nineteenth century. Originally confined to high society, the wealthy would walk or ride in carriages down wide avenues in their Easter finery and bonnets after morning church services.

Easter events scheduled in the valley this weekend include:

DUBLIN: Easter egg hunt, Saturday, Apr. 17, at Shannon Park Community Center. The Easter bunny will be there to meet the children and Easter candy will be distributed.

Age is limited to children 2 - 8 at the following times: Ages 2 to 4 at 10 a.m.; ages 5 and 6 at 11:15 a.m.; ages 7 and 8 at 12:30 p.m.

The hunt is sponsored by Valley Community Services District Recreation Department in cooperation with the Dublin Jaycees, Dublin Junior Women's Club, Dublin Rotary and the Dublin Women's Club.

LIVERMORE: The Easter bunny is scheduled to make a guest appearance and will hand out candy eggs at the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District Easter egg hunt, Saturday, April 17, 10 a.m., at May Nissen Park.

Children will hunt by age groups, three to six years old and seven to 10 years old, in two designated areas of the park.

For an hour following the hunt, games will be played, organized by recreation leaders.

PLEASANTON: The Easter Bunny will appear at the Big Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Pleasanton Recreation Department. Saturday, April 17 at 10 a.m. the east end of Kottinger Park.

Children ages 2 to 4 will hunt at 10 a.m. Five- to seven-year-olds will hunt at noon.

Van crash kills five from valley

JACKSON (AP) — A Livermore family was decimated Thursday in the head - on collision of their van and a doubletrailer truck rig loaded with gravel, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Five persons were killed and three were injured.

Dead were the mother, Joanne Pierce, 32, wife of Livermore truck driver Larry Pierce, and four of their children.

Two other children were injured, one critically.

The father was not in the van at the time.

The CHP reported that the family van was going east on California 88 near Jackson at the time of the accident.

Patrolmen quoted the truck driver, James Roach, 31, of Modesto, as saying he was going west with the heavy rig when he tried to slow for traffic ahead. He said the brakes overheated, and the rig swerved to the left into the path of the van.

Mrs. Pierce and three of the children were pronounced dead at the scene by a passing doctor. They were identified as Jolene, 13; Danny, 11, and Tammy, 10.

Two daughters, Cindy, 9, and Nichole, 5, were treated at Amador County Hospital in Jackson and then taken to the Sacramento Medical Center. Cindy died a short time later. Nichole was described by attendants as in critical condition.

Daughter Michelle, 7, who received moderate injuries, remained in the Amador hospital, the CHP said.

Roach, also injured, was treated at the Amador and transferred to the Modesto Hospital, the CHP said.

Authorities said they delayed releasing the identity of the victims because Pierce, as a truck driver, couldn't be immediately located.

Livermore house burglar suspect sought

LIVERMORE — A young latino man spotted by at least three witnesses near the scene of a house burglary on Evans Court Thursday afternoon is being sought by police.

The suspect, driving a shiny grey VW bug, was spotted by witnesses as he slowly drove through the neighborhood checking houses "very carefully," one woman said.

A neighbor who watched the VW turn onto Evans Court telephoned a resident there but got no response. She then called police.

A woman riding a bicycle with her daughter aboard paid no attention to the VW parked at the side of a house on Evans Court, but did notice a man carrying items out of the house and putting them into the bug, according to police.

Another resident of the area told police her doorbell rang several times before she answered it to find a latino man asking if she knew of a family named "Gonzales" that just moved into the neighborhood. When she replied she didn't, the man thanked her, got into a grey VW and drove away.

Police responded to the scene and discovered Roger Odell Bangerter's Evans Court home had been burglarized. The front door had been wrenched open with heavy - duty pliers.

Nearly $700 in valuables were listed missing, including a Heathkit / Dyna home - built stereo system, two bookshelf speakers, Dual record changer, a modified Heathkit 40 meter transceiver, Yamaha six - string guitar, and a large red trunk.

Police removed the damaged doorknob and placed it into evidence.

The suspect's car license number as obtained by witnesses was reportedly registered to a 1976 Toyota, indicating either the number was read incorrectly, or the plates are stolen.

The suspect is described as a male of latin descent, aged 20-25 years, five feet ten inches tall, 160 pounds, with medium length hair and long sideburns. He was reported to have a slight accent.

Police have no suspects in custody at this time.

Madison Avenue home burglarized last week

LIVERMORE — Burglars entered Patsy Lee Stump's Madison Avenue home sometime last week and took nearly $2,100 in valuables, police said yesterday.

She returned from a week's vacation Thursday to be informed of the burglary by a friend staying at the house in her absence. Police could find no signs of forced entry.

Missing items include an am/fm - cassette stereo unit, Polaroid camera, Panasonic digital clock, Wollensak tape recorder, Sanyo am/fm digital clock radio, and a 22-stone, two - carat diamond ring valued at $1,500.

Two suspects are being sought by police for questioning in the case.

Keys to Livermore High taken in burglary

LIVERMORE — Burglars entered John James Greci Jr.'s unlocked car parked in front of his Agate Court home early Thursday and took a rifle, seven rounds of ammunition and 25 keys belonging to Livermore High School.

A teacher at Livermore High, Greci told police he left the keys and bullets on the dashboard of his unlocked pick-up truck and discovered the theft the next morning.

The keys fit locks to classrooms, meat lockers and greenhouses at the school, Greci told police. They were hooked on a keychain labeled "Made in Italy."

Other missing items include a .22-caliber semi - automatic rifle and seven rounds of .45-caliber ammunition, with a total value of $105. No monetary loss could be placed on the keys.

Police have no suspects in the case.

Guilford Avenue home hit by burglars

LIVERMORE — Burglars used a screwdriver to pry open the front door of John Dalton Combs Guilford Avenue home Monday and took $3,015 in valuables.

Burglars ransacked the home and took a Zenith 19-inch color television, diamond men's watch, ladies' silver wedding band with ten diamonds, two diamond engagement rings, 50 antique records, gold watch, silver coins, and cash.

Police have no suspects in the case.

No easy sewer plight solution Pleasanton planners are told

PLEASANTON — Architect Jack Bras quoted evangelist Oral Roberts, Planning Commission Chairman Walt Wood said, "Keep the faith", but former Mayor Robert Pearson displayed great skepticism that there are any easy answers to the city's sewer dilemmas Wednesday night.

Bras made his remark when he appeared before the planning commission, seeking approval for a triplex at 4566 Augustine St. The triplex was approved with the understanding that the owner realize there won't be any sewer connections available for the units for a long time.

Bras said he and his client, Wanda Aldrich, agree with Oral Roberts' motto: "Expect a miracle."

"We have faith that the city staff and council will get the things moving again," said Bras.

"Well, as they say," replied Wood, "keep the faith."

Later in the meeting Pearson spoke on a rezoning item for Willow West, something he opposed, and he took the above attitude to task.

"Some people have always been overoptimistic about the solutions to the sewer problem," said Pearson. "The politicians and professional planners have to realize that they have always underrated the magnitude of the problem and the availability of the solutions."

In the case of Willow West, granting commercial and industrial zoning to land currently zoned for agriculture heightens the city's sewer problem, said Pearson. Willow West is not on the city's VCSD sewer priority list and there is no assurance it will sewer to the Sunol plant. This sets up the condition where Willow West could turn around in a year or so and sue the city for not having any sewer connections available, said Pearson. It has happened in the past, and the best insurance is to quit giving zoning to agriculturally zoned land, he said.

Pearson suggested that the zoning applicant be required to sign an agreement stating he won't sue the city over sewer connections. Assistant City Attorney Harvey Levine said such an agreement probably wouldn't be legal, since judges like to determine just what can be litigated and what can't.

Levine said the staff would pass along the concern about sewer capacity on the report to the city council, something which the staff already does as a matter of routine. He doubted that a change in zoning would invite a law suit.

Law suits currently against the city have been based on zoning granted or annexations agreements concluded prior to the sewage freeze, said Levine. It is so obvious that the city has no sewer capacity that any lawsuit based on the current state of things is bound to fail, said Levine.

East Ave. speeders to face traffic tags

LIVERMORE — At the request of East Avenue area residents concerned about speeding cars, Mayor Hehen Tirsell has asked Police Chief Ron Lindgren to "lean on East Avenue for a while."

The message was delivered by the mayor to City Manager Bill Parness for relay to Lindgren and although Parness agreed with the contention that cars speed on East Avenue, he noted the only difficulty is that no incidents occur when the police put extra patrols in the area.

End of dual Easter date may be possibility

VATICAN CITY (A.P.) — This may be the last year Christians around the world observe Easter on two different dates, if a proposal put forward by both Pope Paul VI and the World Council of Churches wins acceptance.

This year's Easter observance for the Western churches, including Roman Catholics and Protestants, is this coming Sunday. The Eastern churches, including the Orthodox and Africa's Coptic and Ethiopian Christian, will observe it a week later, on April 25.

Easter is the pivotal feast of Christianity, celebrating Christ raised from the dead. But controversies about the calendar and gospel dates have prevented its celebration on the same date since the early years of Christianity.

By coincidence, next year both groups will mark Easter on the same day, on April 10, the Sunday after the second Saturday of the month.

"The proposal is to make it the rule from next year that Easter falls on Sunday following the second Saturday of the month," said Msgr. Charles Moeller of the Secretariat for Christian Unity.

He said a major obstacle was the problems of the Eastern Orthodox Christians faced in obtaining unanimous approval from their independent and loosely organized churches. Many of them are in Communist - ruled countries, including the Soviet Union.

"This is based on the feeling of many experts that Passover in the year 30, when Christ is believed to have been crucified, fell on a day corresponding to Saturday, April 8. According to this the resurrection occurred on April 9, the Sunday after the second Saturday.

The date of Easter posed a problem from the very early years of Christianity. Jews themselves observed the Feast of Passover on different dates. And some Christians tried for a new date for Easter to mark their difference from the Jews.

THE PEACE OF EASTER

is revealed in Luke's report of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. He writes, concerning a conversation of Jesus with His disciples that first Easter: "These are my words which I spoke to you . . . FORGIVENESS OF SINS SHOULD BE PREACHED in (my) name to all nations." (Chapter 24: 44, 47)

What words is the risen Lord referring to?
"IF YOU FORGIVE MEN THEIR TRESPASSES, your heavenly Father also will forgive you." (Matt. 6:14)

Is Geldermann setting the pace?

The Livermore city council is determined that Harlan Geldermann's "Los Positas New Town" shall not become the standard for oversizing that outfall line to the Bay.

The problem is that Livermore's "Geldermann hangup" could become the measure by which we set all this Valley's goals, perhaps for all time.

There are few within this troubled basin who do not agree that "New Town" is a development we can do without — at least until a great many other challenges as to air pollution, waste water treatment and environmental protection have first been resolved. But there is as much danger in over - reacting to "the Geldermann problem" as there is in allowing that project to move forward.

In seeking to establish the size of that Livermore - Amador Valley outfall line to carry our waste waters to the Bay, our representatives are setting a tight limit on all development within these 600 square miles, perhaps for all time. We need careful consideration of our local economies, our tax base and our employment potential against the smog - producing commuter crunch, before there is any unilateral decision on this Valley's final growth pattern.

It makes no sense for City of Livermore to talk grandly — and spend bravely — in enhancement of its industrial base, while at the same time the Livermore city council is preparing to squeeze down the size of that outfall line "just to keep Geldermann from developing his New Town."

There must be other ways to slow down the energetic Mr. Geldermann short of stifling this entire basin. There must be other controls we can affix on our growth rate without setting for all time a pipeline size that could cheat these several communities of the economic and cultural advantages which have always been just beyond our reach.

Livermore was badly burned once when the city's "sphere of influence" was hemmed in by the short -sighted vision of a prior council. That mistake must not be repeated with this LAVWA pipeline decision.

FOCUS/Fair lighting

The Fair's shadow

The County Fair Association's attempts at implementing permanent security lighting in the parking areas of the Fairgrounds has run afoul of what could be construed as the intimidating shadow of unionism.

These straightforward efforts to provide greater safety for the hundreds of thousands coming to the Fairgrounds, largely at Fair-time, might also be interpreted as one "family member's" realization that another's advice should be heeded.

The latter is in reference to the Fair Association taking county counsel advice on how to proceed in regards the lighting project.

In brief, counsel urged that the Fair Association go to public bid on the project.

Additionally, another member of the county family— public works— had informed the Fair quite some time ago it would have to draw up specifications for permanent lighting itself and accomplish most of the other staff work leading up to bids.

Do you get the impression that public works is claiming it is understaffed and overworked?

" th at Could county counsel be nudging the Fair Association out into the full glare of the public forum?

Interesting subjects to ponder but a bit off the subject at hand.

Fair Association Board of Directors were all set to proceed with the lighting project when an electrical contractor, Frank Fries, happened by the board meeting earlier this week.

What Fries opined to directors, along with Jack Bidwell of Bidwell and Associates in Livermore, was sufficient to cause the board to table this important project until after Fair-time.

Fries told the bbard there's "quite a possibility" of a "union contract failure by the end of May."

Bidwell said delivery of the necessary lighting hardware could take five weeks or more. Thus, the Fair Association would have to put bids out almost immediately and try and get the project underway by mid-May with full realization that a strike could leave the Fair with open trenches and no light standards to put in them.

That's what we mean by the "intimidating shadow."

In Lew Alexander and his staff, the Fair has a highly-competent work force to accomplish the project themselves. But it can't be done if the materials are delayed by strikes and additional workers won't cross picket lines.

The Fair is in dire need of the permanent lights to replace the portables of past years and keep pace with the growing demands for security....as befits a burgeoning County Fair

False security

Amador High School makes its move to "place fulltime security personnel" on its Santa Rita Road campus as an answer to growing vandalism.

The postal service insists that three strands of barbed wire atop an eight - foot fence is "the only way to keep people from entering our parking lot and stealing gas from post office vehicles."

And from out there in suburbia — from sweet - sounding places like "Pleasanton Meadows" and "Val Vista" and "Foothill Farms" — the comment comes: "You can hardly blame people for wanting to put barbed wire fences around their property. It's the only answer, these days."

Are we really reduced to " fencing them out"? Has Pleasanton become a sort of prison, with the good, fearful guys on the inside?

We think not. And even if "things were that bad," barbed wire and fulltime guards wouldn't be the answer. We couldn't afford it, for one thing. It would be a poor trade - off, for another.

Rather would we advocate that the schools look at the source of most "vandalism," and wonder why those young people have little sense of value. Rather would we wish the federal authority wonder why it must put barbed wire around its post offices, and wonder also if there is enough barbed wire in this country to protect each and every parcel.

And if there were, is THAT the answer?

We think not. We pray not. Pleasanton simply has to find a better way.

Easter's promise

It is a time when one president fails us, and therefore many are inclined to lose faith in all leadership.

It is a generation when some reject values many have cherished, and there are those to suggest that all value is therefore lost.

In a nation blessed as never before, we are a people with remarkably little faith. Not in science, not in God, not even in each other.

At least, that is what "some say."

The shadow of Good Friday is ever with us. The test comes in knowing there will always be an Easter Sunday.

Two thousand years ago a man lived, and suffered and died, as an example for all to come. So that we might know how to live, to suffer, to die. Some doubt today that He was the Messiah. Few question the example that he left.

The lesson is here, the need is now. We are a people lost in the wilderness of our own misdeeds. We cry out for truth. Lacking faith in our future, we look with reverence to the past.

We should look perhaps to that day when one among us died, and lived again. He lives still.

That is the promise of Easter.

Letters to the Times

That pipeline

Editor, The Times:

A sewage pipeline will be built between Livermore and VCSD pumping station. We now have the opportunity to at least get our moneys' worth — a miracle to be sure.

It will be financed at 87 1/2% by the state and 12 1/2% by us. The total estimated cost is 3.1 million dollars.

At the last (Livermore) council meeting three systems were discussed: First, a 24 inch pipeline with a surge pond. This system has a maximum flow of 7.4 M.G.D. which our city has exceeded, in fact, the engineer explaining these systems informed the council. "This system has not the needed capacity for present or future growth."

Second system has a 27 inch pipe with a surge pond. This system has a maximum flow of 10.2 M.G.D. This system would prove adequate for our present needs and possibly our future; although, it was it was stated, "that on selective days we have exceeded 10.0 M.G.D.

Third system has a 33 inch pipe, no surge pond — with a flow capacity of 17.4 M.G.D. This will handle with no fore seen problems all present needs ... and all business and industrial growth our new development director can locate in our area.

Systems two and three are estimated to be identical in costs, which we will ultimately pay; therefore, let's help ourselves to an economic miracle and inform our council before April 12. That we want the most for our money-system three.

Planning post

Open letter to Livermore City Council:

Mrs. Joan (Tot) Green has applied for the current vacancy, as she has several times in the past. I believe she would do a good job, and urge you to give careful and impartial consideration to her, as well as all the other candidates, on the basis of their qualifications.

I do not believe that the methods by which many past vacancies have been filled is impartial ... Many vacancies have been filled in past times by the campaign managers of successful city council candidates. ...

Next I would note that the membership has been primarily of the male sex. Unfortunately, those who work for money are held in higher esteem than women who are homemakers or who do volunteer work. Certainly some very first rate volunteer work is done by women (e.g. AAUW), and raising a family is an important job-just consider the cost to society when a disturbed family environment produces children who become a burden to society.

You have her qualifications before you: Chairperson of the Hillside Commission, Livermore representative on the Fairmont (County) Hospital Citizens Advisory Board, member of the Livermore Amador Valley Citizens Advisory Commission on Health.

Please consider the following items when making your selection: time and enthusiasm the candidate brings to the job, what is their real motivation, will the applicant be in a potential conflict of interest situation because of their vocation, will the candidate represent a broad segment of the community or special interests, who will best serve the city as a whole.

Teachers' aides

Editor, The Times:

The Tri Valley Herald (4-9-76) quoted Mr. Allen Schell, President of the Livermore Teachers Association, as saying that teacher aids are a source of cheap teachers.

Unless the quote is in error, Mr. Schell is trying to detract from a very valuable assistant to the classroom teacher.

Aids and para professionals have been used in several Livermore elementary and secondary schools for many years. These people, mostly housewives and mothers, are hired for a few hours a day to handle duties assigned to them by one or more classroom teachers.....

Schools that have used paraprofessionals find that the freshness and enthusiasm that they bring into the classroom far exceed the value of the small hourly wage they are paid.

The para professional service provides the school district with much needed help at a low cost as well as providing employment for many Livermore women whose families need the supplemental income.

For an organization such as Mr. Schell's to undermine this valuable educational resource only to redirect funds to provide for the more expensive "certified" teachers is self serving and not a benefit for the school children and taxpayers of our community.

round the town

Meet Citizen Atom — Your Partner in Progress.

The message is in red. Flanked by an oval splash of golden - yellow, across which "Citizen Atom" is emblazoned once again.

The fifteen pages that followed in that newspaper tabloid were a history maker, of sorts. It marked the first time that the message of "peacetime atomic power" had been brought to the American people. And to the world.

The year was 1957. The memory of atoms that could demolish whole cities was still fresh in most American minds Few had ever been asked to live with atomic power as a peaceful, productive neighbor.

General Electric had searched the Bay Area for the one site that could provide space, shelter, with just the right prevailing winds, and just enough distance from any large city.

When you are building the world's first peacetime atomic plant, "care and caution" is the key.

They had acquired those 1500 acres near Sunol in 1955. When The Pleasanton Times printed "our greatest scoop ever" in breaking that news to the world, few believed us. Not even the other news media. For a whole week we waited for the nation to react. When they didn't, we carried the story again — this time using the biggest type this weekly newspaper shop could provide. And others finally got the message.

General Electric and Pacific Gas and Electric Company were together going to build something called "a boiling water reactor." It was going to impact clear across the American life style. "Helping us to better health" ... "Bringing you easier homemaking" ... "Will there always be enough food?"

Thus did General Electric seek to tell the story of the atom, as seen from a town like Pleasanton, for an audience that would span three continents.

The truth is that "Citizen Atom" got much better exposure in Europe than it did in this country. Printed in French and Spanish, I understand. Distributed through "select newspapers" in key cities, including New York, Toronto, and Pleasanton.

It was only fair that The Times was chosen as the single California city to carry "Citizen Atom," because in truth, we had helped prepare it.

Some Madison Avenue genius had decided that "we need to tell the story of atomic energy through simple eyes." Some vice president closer to home resolved there were no eyes simpler than those of a weekly newspaper editor.

And thus did I first gain international fame, in the summer of 1957.

I had, quite frankly, forgotten all about that. About the week spent with a photographer from New York, who is remembered today (and was noted then) only as the ex - hubbie of Gloria Vanderbilt. He was also a man with unlimited expense account, for film. He must have taken a thousand pictures ... of me, my town, my favorite high school teacher, my neighbors serving me tea.

"We want to portray you in a typical day, doing your everyday thing," Gloria Vanderbilt's ex explained He took photos of me doing things I had never done before, or since.

Like sitting in a pile of dry weeds with the great dome of the reactor draped against a blue, blue sky. It said to the world ... "Here is a man who has learned to live with atomic power." It did not bother to say that the man had a very sore behind from sitting on those dry weeds, while Gloria's ex made fifty exposures.

Somebody came across a copy of "Citizen Atom" just the other day. It reminded me of an exhausting week given to community, country, and General Electric. The nine photos they actually used (I figured about one percent of the total exposures) were also encouraging, sort of.

They prove that I was almost as bald in 1957 as I am in 1976. That's one kind of progress even I can understand.

Did I get paid for that contribution to "the nation's first great peacetime nuclear controversy"? Of course I did.

They came by some weeks later with an electric can opener. GE's finest. It worked in fits and starts, before we finally went back to oand power. The General Electric Atomic Laboratory at Vallecitos has lasted some better, thank goodness.

I have learned to live with General Electric's atomic power. I can't say as much for their appliances.

Sound and Fury

Walt Hecox

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a Republic; a soveriegn Nation of many soveriegn States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes."

Somewhere in the dim past, probably before I had that crucial fight with George in the Fifth Grade cloakroom at the Cupertino Union School but after the butter paddling administered by Miss Owens for misbehaving in the Third Grade, I learned those words and believed them to be beautiful.

For that reason, and because they seem no less beautiful to me than they did in those lost days of yore, I was delighted when a young lady on The Times editorial staff announced she believed the United States of America to be the greatest country in the world and that she thanked God for every day she lived here.

Considering she was a survivor of the sixties and a generation which appeared to be dedicated to a large degree to destroying every vestage of those principles for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes, I felt very happy.

I needed those kind words of hers. Too often recently have I wondered if those qualities of freedom, equality, justice and humanity had been lost in a political crap game as savage as it has been immoral.

For more than two weeks I have been appalled by reports of a book, "The Final Days", authored by Washington Post reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward, the pair who rendered a great service to this country when they exposed the Watergate burglary.

Unfortunately I can see little service to anyone except the author's pocketbooks in their most recent effort.

Richard Nixon is down and has long since been counted out. While he lives it is not only bad taste but inhuman to beat on the dead horse which is the remnant of his presidency

There will be time enough in a half century or so to re-examine the tragedy that was Watergate and record it properly in the pages of history and literature.

Sometimes I have a hard time understanding the citizens of these United States.

What Richard Nixon did was wrong and a great dis-service to this country.

His crimes, however, were well meaning though misguided and by no means as vicious and sinister as those of Tom Hayden during the sixties and early seventies.

Yet today Hayden is, with the backing of many misled mavericks, the favorite son of the idiot left and a candidate for the Senate of the United States in the Democratic primary in this state.

While we kick the corpse of Nixon's political image we allow a man to be idolized who has, in his own words, sworn to destroy much of what makes these United States "the greatest country in the world" as the young lady said.

Things are no different here in the valley.

For many years people have sought to find ways to slur the character of John D. Murphy, First District Supervisor

I tried my hand at that morbid pastime many years ago and came up with nothing because there was, while much a man could disagree with, nothing about the man which was not beyond reproach.

So too will Murphy's enemies jump on the residence exemption which he claimed in Nevada County and which has led to the recent controversy.

As far as I am concerned many of those enemies have blood on their hands, the blood of those who died and were injured while Murphy's foes fought and delayed the Dublin Canyon widening.

As far as caring for their constituents, what will the city of Livermore do when an effluent pipeline much too small is unable to handle wastewater originating with the new industry their high priced new administrator is supposed to attract to that city?

I could ask a lot more questions. Instead I will remind you, as I remind myself, of Abraham Lincoln's immortal words to an Indiana regiment in 1865.

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds..."

Where is that "malice toward none and charity for all" now? Quo vadis, my friends? All of you And me.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Pessimistic Pete won the first trick with dummy's king of clubs. East played the queen and Pete promptly called for the queen of hearts.

East played low and it was up to Pete to decide whether or not to take the trump finesse. The game was match point duplicate and if Pete lost that finesse, West would probably give his partner a club ruff and Pete would be held to his contract. On the other hand if Pete did not take the finesse and it would have would wind up making five instead of six.

What did Pete do? He rose with the ace and wound up making five hearts.

Did he refuse the finesse because he was a pessimist? No. He refused it because he wanted it to be wrong. Pete had really underbid his hand. Surely some slam try was indicated after that heart raise. Therefore, Pete reasoned that a lot of pairs would be in a slam which would depend on the heart finesse. Pete would get some points if the finesse were wrong and very few if it were right.

Ask the Jacobys

A Maine reader wants us to define "Convention".

The official definition is that it is a bid or call that by agreement, not inference, gives or requests information unrelated to the denomination named. Thus, when you bid four notrump to ask for aces you are using the Blackwood convention.

'Wrong' decision costs Cal third

FREMONT — Coming within a split - second decision of third place, California High School dropped its final game in the Mission Valley Baseball Tournament, 2-1 to Newark, yesterday afternoon at Irvington High School.

A two-out rally in the final inning ended in a frustrating anti - climax for the Grizzlies, who finished with a 2-2 record for the week.

Mike Daugherty worked Newark ace Bret Watson for a walk after fouling off one 3-2 pitch. Reserve outfielder Pat Fahey pinchran for Daugherty.

Adding to the suspense, Cal pitcher Bret Cary also fouled off a full count offering before lining a hit - and - run single to center.

Fahey, who cruised around third base, was hesitant about trying for the plate,but was sent home by third base coach Ed Noble when Knight shortstop Dan Glorioso bobbled Pat Clapp's relay throw. He slid into the tag for an easy out.

"I blew this one for the kids," admitted Noble. "I should have kept him at third once I saw he'd slowed up."

"With (Larry) Walters and Chuck (Cary) coming up, we might have gone ahead."

Th loss partially obscured what Cal co - coach Bob Benatar called the best game Bret Cary had thrown all season. The junior right hander went the six - inning distance, giving up three hits and a like number of walks while striking out seven.

He threw just 78 pitches and had to work with two runners on base only twice.

The Grizzlies' offense, on the other hand, was anemic throughout the tournament, netting just 14 hits in four games. The Cal coaches were surprisingly unperturbed.

"I'm not dissappointed with the hitting," Noble said "We were hitting the ball hard — we had a lot of line drive outs."

But a high caliber of competition was a contributing factor. Each of Cal's opponents were either leading their respective league or were one-half game out of first place.

Consequently, said Benatar, the pitching was better than that ordinarily seen in the EBAL. Newark's Watson, who held the Grizzlies to four hits and four walks while fanning seven, was a definite example.

Saved by the Knights for the not - to - be championship game, Watson gave up just one run to Cal, an unearned run at that.

Chuck Cary led off the fourth inning with a full count bouncer just out of reach of Newark second-baseman Matt Grisso for a single.

Cary stole second when Knight catcher Tim Hastings threw the ball into left field, far out of the reach of Glorioso, who was moving toward second base.

After two were out, Tyler Laurie hit a ground ball up the middle that Grisso made a good play to stop but, with time to throw out the Cal left fielder, fired a throw into the dirt at first for a two - base error, scoring Cary.

Newark scored in the first inning when Grisson led off with a single and scored on a chaotic sacrifice and throwing error play.

The other Knight run came in the fourth. Third-baseman Ray Stegman walked, went to third on a single by Dave Williams and scored on a sacrifice fly to center by Carl Shumaker.

The Grizzlies return to EBAL play Tuesday, when they travel to Dublin.

Wolves blown out by Tribe

SAN LORENZO — It has been said football is a sport for any weather. After this week's Verl Thornock Tournament however, baseball is getting the same reputation.

On Monday, it was rain making the infield damp and muddy. Outfield footing was treacherous. Yesterday, northerly winds blew into town and turned baseball into an "I wonder which way the ball's going now," contest.

Under those conditions, San Ramon High lost their consolation semi-final to Tamalpais High, 7-5.

Indicative of the blustery day was a total of 15 bases on balls issued by the two pitching staffs. Ten were dealt by the Wolves. Also, an easy fly ball to right field hit by San Ramon catcher Paul Miller was gathered up by a gale, and carried over the head of Tamalpais' frantic outfielder.

Miller turned it into a home run, and laughed his way back to the dugout.

"Can you believe that?" Miller said, shaking his head.

Nothing should be denied either team, however, as both played good defense, considering.

Tamalpais opened the scoring in the second inning with a three-run outburst. A base hit and a hit batsman, coupled with a walk loaded the bases. The Indians' Ken Nakahiro chased two runs home with a single to right field. A sacrifice fly fetched the final score.

Tamalpais opened up again in the third inning Two hits and four free passes by Wolf pitching produced four runs. It began to look like a rout for the Indians.

But San Ramon wouldn't play dead. The Wolves came to life in their half of the third. Ed Aitken and Greg Bishop smacked back - to - back singles and John Arnaudon grounded to shortstop. An attempted force at second base was missed, and that loaded the bases.

Miller followed with a single to score Aitken and Ralph Huddleston's fly to right field was badly misjudged (it was excuseable) scoring Bishop and Arnaudon. At this point Tamalpais coach Fred Mack. A yanked starting pitcher Bob Marks and called Don Lucia. He promptly set the Wolves down in order.

San Ramon came up with three runs, though, and added two in the next inning. Aitken walked, and after Bishop went down on a fly ball, Arnaudon smashed a pitch to left field scoring Aitken and winding up on third base. At least he should have been. Arnaudon missed second base on the turn, however, and was called out on an appeal.

This turned out to be a pivotal play, as Miller followed with his wind - charged home run.

The Wovles had one more chance to score in the fifth inning on a walk to Rick Hanson and a double by Aitken. But Hanson, attempting to avoid a tag at home, started his slide a bit too soon, and came to a halt 10-feet short of the plate.

Irby batters Elby supply

Bobby Fruchtenicht fired a two-hitter and his teammates lashed out 12 base hits to lead Irby's Milk past Elby's Auto Supplies, 12-2 Wednesday, in Pleasanton National major league baseball.

Fruchtenicht shut out Elby's in every inning but the fourth, when the losers rallied for two runs. Their key blow was a run - scoring single by Terry Smith.

Chris Elbert paced the Irby offense with three base hits including a double and home run. Elbert drove in three runs. Smith Blackwood knocked in a pair of runs with a base hit. Fruchtenicht and Scott Mandle collected two hits apiece. Fruchtenicht drove in one run.

Kevin Ackerman relieved Fruchtenicht on the mound.

In a Triple A contest, Jack In the Box belted Valley Radiator, 10-4. The losers out-hit Jack's, however, 6-2

The Double A Pirates tripped the Padres, 5-4, by scoring five times in the bottom of the fifth inning. The Padres rallied with three runs in the sixth.

Robert Hasty tripled twice in three at-bats for the winners. He also drove in a run.

Hasty was the winning pitcher, striking out eight in five innings, and yielding just one hit. That hit was Tim Mena's two-run double.

David Whitney played well for the Bucs behind the plate. Donny Buti, C.B. Wayt and Alby Sabal were outstanding in the field.

In a Single A game, the Pirates downed the Padres, 4-2. Scott Iverson, Erin Mackay, Stewart Reynolds and Donald Whitlow collected hits. For the losers, Dan Dawson singled and doubled.

Bowles named all-star

Mike Bowles of San Ramon High School was named this morning to the Contra Costa County All-Star football team which will meet Alameda Aug. 14 in the 11th charity classic at Diablo Valley College.

The 6-4, 220 fullback and defensive end is the only EBAL player selected by Contra Costa coaches Charles Tourville of Alhambra, and Roger Leonard of Northgate.

Three players from each of those schools have been named to the 30-man Contra Costa team.

This week Alameda coaches Al Vermeil of Moreau, and John Brosnan, Castro Valley, selected four EBAL players for the all-star game. They were quarterback John Walden, running back Steve Jaeger and lineman Ron Freeman of Granada, and Livermore quarterback Rich Palmer.

Bowles was the chief rushing threat this past season for San Ramon. Despite his awesome size he opened the year at tailback. Bowles possesses good speed, and in fact, has been the Wolves' best 100-yard dash runner in track. Midway through the year he was shifted to fullback, where he finished out the football schedule.

Bowles will play football at Arizona State University next fall, where's he earned a full scholarship.

Mike is currently engaged in one of track season's unusual on-going performances. He not only is a good sprinter, but has been among the East Bay's leaders in the discus all season long.

Bowles will be joined in the Contra Costa backfield by Terry Zahner of Pinole Valley, the tailback who ran over Granada High last November in the North Coast Section championship game.

Livermore sister city group accepting exchange bids

LIVERMORE— The Livermore Sister City Organization is now accepting applicants for the 1976-77 student exchange program for Livermore students interested in going to Quezaltenango, Livermore's sister city in Guatemala.

A Livermore student would go to school in the Guatamalan city and live with a family in Quezaltenango for either the fall semester or the spring semester.

The applicant should be 15 to 18 years of age, enrolled in the Livermore Valley Unified School District, and a resident of the city. The student should be taking or have completed Spanish 4 and be able to demonstrate reasonable proficiency to the Livermore Sister City organization.

Food and lodging is provided by host parents in Quezaltenango. Round trip air fare is approximately $400 and American school tuition is $40 a month. Private Spanish school is about $15 a month. Students must also have their own spending money.

Application forms are available from the high school Spanish departments at Livermore and Granada or from the Livermore Sister City organization. Students must obtain a written recommendation from his or her Spanish teacher. Send forms to Sister City exchange committee, 4336 Baylor Way, Livermore 94550.

Application deadline is May 15 to attend the 1976 fall semester and September 15 for the 1977 spring semester.

Resist temptation to give Easter pets

Parents should avoid the temptation to give those cute, cuddly little bunnies, chicks, and ducks as Easter presents, the California Veterinary Medical Association warned this week.

In spite of annual warnings, stringent laws in many states and communities, the giving of rabbits, ducks and chicks continues in many areas, much to the harm of the animals and mental anguish of the children receiving them, the association said.
